Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in-

- (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effect under this subsection of a national application published under section 122(b) only if the international application designating the United States was published under Article 21(2)(a) of such treaty in the English language; or
- (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that a patent shall not be deemed filed in the United States for the purposes of this subsection based on the filing of an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a).

2. Claims 16-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Messersmith.

Re claim 16-22, Messersmith discloses a vehicle driveline parking brake assembly a moveable driveline component (17), a stationary driveline component (a housing which is considered inherent in any transmission) that remains stationary relative to a portion of the vehicle, a braking member (15) associated with the movable driveline component (17) such that the braking member remains stationary relative to the moveable driveline component, an engaging portion (14 and the attached lever in Fig. 2) associated with the stationary driveline component, the engaging portion selectively movable into a braking position where the engaging portion engages the braking member, a spring (20) that biases the engaging portion into the braking position and an electrically powered actuator (100) that selectively moves the spring and releases the engaging portion out of the braking position and wherein the moveable driveline component comprises a driveline shaft (17) and the braking member comprises a drum (16) that is fixed for rotation on the driveline shaft that is rotatable relative to the stationary driveline component.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 15-20 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Gierer et al. and Ono teach vehicle driveline parking brake assemblies.
